- 1) (1) Matthew loved tennis. He had been practicing hard for weeks, preparing for the biggest match of the year.
- (2) Today was the day. He wanted to win. He had trained so much.
- (3) His best friend and training partner Larry was on the sidelines, cheering him on.
- (4) The match started off great.
- (5) He ran across the court, hitting each ball with speed and precision.
- (6) But then, SNAP! His racket strings broke!
- (7) Matthew froze and his heart pounded as he stared at the loose strings hanging from his racket.
- (8) He had never had a string break during a match before, and now it had happened in his most important match.
- (9) The referee called for a short break while Matthew figured out what to do.
- (10) He was about to give up when he heard a voice.
- (11) "Use my spare!" He turned to see Larry holding out his extra racket.
- (12) Matthew hesitated. It wasn't his racket. It wouldn't feel the same.
- (13) But then he remembered something his coach always said, "Champions never give up."
- (14) Taking a deep breath, he grabbed Larry's racket and returned to the court.
- (15) The new racket was heavier than his own, and the grip wasn't as comfortable.
- (16) He missed an easy ball, and his opponent scored a point.
- (17) But instead of getting upset, Matthew told himself, 'It's okay. I just need to adapt.'
- (18) He focused on his footwork and adjusted his grip.
- (19) Despite his best efforts, things didn't go as Matthew hoped.
- (20) And by the end of the match, he had lost.
- (21) He had wanted to win so badly.
- (22) As Matthew walked miserably to the net, he looked at his opponent.
- (23) The boy was smiling, holding out his hand.
- (24) He didn't want to admit his defeat.
- (25) But then, he remembered something Larry always said:
- (26) "Winning isn't about the score. It's about how you play the game."
- (27) Matthew realized he had done his best.
- (28) Matthew smiled, shook the boy's hand and said, "Congratulations. You played a great game."
