The beauty (9) _____ vibrational signaling lies (10) _____ its efficiency.

It avoids costly physical clashes, allowing spiders to resolve territorial disputes (11) _____ minimal risk (12) _____ injury.

A smaller or weaker spider, upon receiving a strong vibrational warning, may choose to retreat and seek a less contested territory, rather than risk a potentially fatal fight.

This makes vibrational communication a crucial tool (13) _____ maintaining stability and reducing aggression (14) _____ spider populations.
